Happy Friday CRR!

Just a quick events update this week -

The Back to School donation effort runs through the end of the day tomorrow, so if you have any last minute donations we'd sure appreciate it. Donation bins are located at the POA offices and the Rec Center, whichever might be most convenient.

Pickin' in the Park for tomorrow night is still on, but we're watching the weather with fingers crossed it holds out for us.

The Farmer's Market downtown is having a Christmas In July themed event tomorrow morning. Santa said he's going to be sporting his 'summer clothing', but he'll be there!

Lastly, we received a special request from Gilmer Co. Emergency Management to share the following invitation:

Gilmer County Emergency Management Agency (EMA) is asking for your help in determining the accuracy of cell phone Emergency Alerts. They need to find out if emergency alerts are reaching your phones, if the messages fall within the area that match the alert zone, and if you are receiving the alerts in a timely manner.

Participation is strictly voluntary. It makes sense that the more participants they have, the more accurate the data will be.

If you are willing to participate by filling out a short survey after receiving the test message, please send your name to EMAGilmer@gmail.com. Further information and instructions for participants will be emailed at a later date.

As a reminder, the the Board of Directors will be meeting at the Water Tower tomorrow morning at 9:30am. You're welcome to join us in person or via Zoom by completing the registration link in the announcements section below.

That's all I have for this week, hope you all have a wonderful weekend!

Until next week,

Racey Cave
Asst. General Manager

A Message From Your Environmental Conservation Committee

ECO-FRIENDLY ANGLING

Beyond fishing gear, there are other ways to practice eco-friendly fishing. If you catch and release, in addition to choosing barbless circle hooks, be sure to use the right eco-friendly fishing lures for the species to avoid exhausting the fish, keep your catch wet, and limit the time the fish stays out of the water to increase the chance of survival.

It's also important to pay attention to the area around you. Take your trash with you to prevent fish and other wildlife from eating or getting caught in your rubbish.
